DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1, 2, 10 and 11, drawn to a polyol-in-silicone emulsion and method of making, classified in class 516, subclass 20.
  - II. Claims 3-5, drawn to a personal care composition which is a lipstick, classified in class 424, subclass 64.
  - III. Claims 3, 6 and 7, drawn to a personal care composition which is a foundation, classified in class 424, subclass 63.
  - IV. Claims 3 and 8, drawn to a personal care composition which is a make-up remover, classified in class 424, subclass 70.31.
  - V. Claims 3 and 9, drawn to a personal care composition which is an antiperspirant, classified in class 424, subclass 65.
  - VI. Claims 12-14, drawn to an anhydrous personal care composition, classified in class 424, subclass 401.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II or III or IV or V are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the emulsion of Group I does not require the presence of a carrier for patentability. The subcombination has separate utility such as lipstick or foundation or make-up remover or antiperspirant.

3. Inventions I and VI are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the emulsion of Group I does not have to be anhydrous. The subcombination has separate utility such as lipstick.

4. Inventions III and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the foundation of Group III does not require the presence of solid wax of Group II. The subcombination has separate utility such as lipstick.

5. Inventions III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the foundation of Group III does not require the presence of a deterative surfactant of Group IV. The subcombination has separate utility such as make-up remover.

6. Inventions IV and V are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the make-up remover of Group IV does not require the presence of an antiperspirant active of Group V. The subcombination has separate utility such as an antiperspirant.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group VI, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1616

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II or III or IV or IV or V is not required for Group I, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
